CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW, AN EXPERIENCED NURSE AND FEMALE PHYSICIAN, presents to the attention of mothers her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

FOR CHILDREN TEETHING,

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflamation, will allay pain and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to you Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed, in a single instance, to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak of this matter "what we do know," after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in thousands of cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause.—We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world, and by G. W. Kessler and A. Roush, druggists, Altoona. Price 25 cents per bottle.

TO MY HUSBAND.

In the calm evening, lone and still,
I sadly think of thee—of thy high trust,
To meet thy Country's need, to crush, repel
The demons trampling low into the dust
Her sacred, holy Flag!

I dream of dangers, lowering and dark—
Dangers encircling thee, my earthly all!
And trembling shrink, lest battle's fatal mark
Should claim thee victim to the thrilling call
Of our torn, bleeding Flag!

Trusting, I look to GOD! and, weeping, bid
Thee, in this hour of trial, unflinching meet
Those traitorous hearts, forgetting, in their pride,
Their Father's brave, whose spirits sad, entreat,
Their glorious Flag to save!

Through dangers manifold, and seas of blood,
Our Fathers pressed, this glorious boon to wave,
Unstained, unspotted by rebellious flood,
O'er our bright homes; above the Patriot's grave,
Our broad, striped, starry Flag!

Then go—and if to meet Death's cold embrace,
Go!—e'en though this heart now bleeding, break!
Our Country's sacred honor, glorious praise,
Must yet resound o'er earth—must proudly float
Her sacred, bloodstained Flag.

ARMY-HYMN.

TUNE—"Old Hundred."

O Lord of Hosts! Almighty King!
Behold the sacrifice we bring!
To every arm Thy strength impart,
Thy spirit shed through every heart!

Wake in our breasts the living fires,
The holy faith that warmed our sires;
Thy hand hath made our Nation free;
To die for her in serving Thee.

Be thou a pillared flame to show
The midnight snare, the silent foe;
And when the battle thunders loud,
Still guide us in its moving cloud.

God of all nations! Sovereign Lord!
In thy dread name we draw the sword,
We lift thy starry flag on high
That fills with light our stormy sky.

From treason's rent, from murder's stain
Guard Thou its folds till Peace shall reign,—
Till fort and field, till shore and sea
Join our loud anthem, PRAISE TO THEE!

Correspondence of the N. Y Herald.

THE BATTLE AT BOONEVILLE.

BOONEVILLE, JUNE 18.—The boats moved up to a landing eight miles below Booneville, on the south side of the river. Here they fastened to the shore, and the troops were debarked. A farmer at work in a field near the landing stated that the enemy were in camp four and a half miles from that spot, or three and a half miles below Booneville. The level bottom land of the Missouri was here half a mile in width to the bluff, but it gradually narrowed as it extended up the river, until it terminated where the bluff came to the water's edge, two miles from the boat landing.

The road followed for a mile and a half along this bottom and then ascended the bluff. The latter is a range of low hills or ridges, about two hundred feet in height which are separated by ravines, some of them with quite precipitous sides. The order of proceeding was as follows: Ten mounted men, the only cavalry in the expedition, led the advance; scouting parties, detached from the Second regiment, were thrown out for half a mile on the left, and to the river on the right; Gen. Lyon's company of regulars, led by Sarg't Griffin, and Company B, of the Second regiment, commanded by Captain Schulte, followed the cavalry; Captain Totten's battery of artillery, and his company of regulars, the latter led by Lieut. Lathrop, came next, followed by Colonel Blair's (First) regiment; the rear was brought up by a battalion from Colonel Boernstein's regiment, led by Lieutenant Colonel Schaffer. On board the boat was Captain Richardson, with Company D, First regiment, and Captain Boastep, with twenty men and a siege (eight-inch) howitzer.

At just three minutes before seven A. M., on June 17, the order was given to move. The morning was cloudy, with occasionally a few drops of rain, but before the battle was over the sun shone out as clear and bright as ever. As the column ascended the bluff, the pickets of the enemy were seen and driven in.

After an advance of three fourths of a mile, one of the advanced guard rode hastily back to the head of the column, and informed General Lyon that the whole body of the State troops was drawn up a few hundred yards in front. General Lyon at once ordered the regulars, under Sergeant Griffin, to the left, and Captain Schultz's riflemen to the right. Captain Totten's battery was ordered to the front to occupy the road.

The enemy were drawn up about three hundred yards in advance, on the crest of a hill, or rather a long swell or ridge, over which the road passed at the highest point. The road was occupied by Colonel Marmaduke, with a small body of horsemen and a battalion of infantry. Immediately on his left was a brick house filled with rebel troops, and back of this, towards the river, was a narrow lane, where his left wing was posted.

To their rear was a wheat-field, and in this was miscellaneously scattered small crowds of men, apparently without order or regularity. To his right was another wheat-field, separated from an adjacent corn-field by a worm fence, and behind this fence his right wing was posted. As soon as our men were in position, Captain Totten unlimbered a twelve-pounder and a six-pounder, and sent a shell from the former into the midst of the men occupying the road. A puff of smoke rising from among them showed that the gunner's aim had been true.

The next shell was directed against the squads of men in the wheat-field, and caused them to make a hasty retreat.—The fire now became general along the whole line—the regulars on the right and the German troops on the left advancing in good order. Our line was formed on a ridge similar to that occupied by the enemy, and parallel to it, separated from the latter by a valley with a gentle descent on either side. To our left was a corn-field, and on our right a copse or grove of scattered oaks.

The regulars advanced in the corn-field to the crest of the ridge, creeping up the latter and firing when an opportunity occurred, taking for their motto that of an Irishman at Donnybrook Fair, "Whenever you see a head hit it." The hollow between the ridges was full of scattered oaks, and these served as a cover to our men. Captains Stone, Cole, and Cavender were sent to support the right of the regulars, and in this way they all advanced to the fence where the enemy were at first posted.

The battalion from the Second, supported by Captains Maurice's, Burke's, and Yates' companies, were at the same time doing good work on the right; and in twenty minutes from the time Captain Totten fired the first shell, the rebels were in full retreat and our men occupying the line first held by the enemy. The house on the right had been completely riddled by the last shots from the battery, and one shell burst in the very centre of the building, at a time, when it was full of soldiers.

Several dead bodies of the rebels were found in the wheat-field near the lane, showing that our fire had been effective. In fact, at the first volley from the right wing several saddles were emptied of their riders, and two horses galloped over to our lines. The correspondents of the N. Y. Herald and St. Louis Democrat entered the battle on foot by the side of the battery, but were very soon mounted, having succeeded in capturing these runaway steeds.

From this point the Union troops proceeded, still in line, for nearly a mile, over ground somewhat uneven, but not rough. In a grove at the entrance to Camp Vest the rebels made a brief stand but two shells and a few rounds of Minnie balls speedily dislodged them, and they fled in tumultuous haste toward Booneville. Captain Cole, supported by Captain Miller, entered and took possession of the camp, capturing a large quantity of provisions, ammunition, rifles and camp equipage. He secured one secession flag, one lone-star flag, and one State flag with fifteen stars.

The number of killed and wounded on the part of the rebles has not and probably will not be accurately asertained.—Many of those fighting on the rebles side were "loose men," not enrolled in any company, and fled in large numbers not to any rallying point, but directly home, thinking, doubtless, that there was some mistake about the popular belief that the Union troops are cowards. Out of one company (Capt McCulloch's Cooper Co. Rifles) thirteen are known to be killed and several wounded.

The number of dead alread brought into Booneville, or taken to friends in the country, cannot fall much short of fifty, and the wounded now heard of are as many more. Several shells were burst directly in their midst, and the Minie balls flew thick and fast from the rifles of our soldiers, so that the mortality list must have been quite large. On the side of the Union troops, there were three killed, ten wounded, and one missing.

We took eighty prisoners, nineteen of whom have been released, and the remaining sixty-one put on board the Louisana. During the engagement Rev. William A Pile, of St Louis, chaplain to the First Regiment, was furnished with a detail of four men to look after the wounded. Descending to a ravine he came suddenly upon a party of twenty four rebels, and peremptorily ordered them to halt and surrender.

They evidently considered discretion the better part of valor, and at once threw up the sponge, i e, took off their hats, and laid down their arms. The parson soon after reported himself to General Lyon, with his twenty four prisoners, guarded by four men and himself The story is pretty well circulated among our boys, and the chaplain is looked upon (if his clerical neck choker will allow the expression) as a perfect trump, a decided brick.

"SHARPE'S" THE WORD!

I recently procured a Sharpe's rifle.—Sharpe's the word. Breech-loading. It is a good thing to have in a family, in a war time. Said I to that estimable woman, my wife. He that careth not for his own household is worse than an infidel, or something like it. I dare say you can find the passage if you look for it. It is a beautiful trait, finely seen in the least specimens of the brute creation. Have a scar on my hand where, fifteen years ago, a woodchuck advertised the fact in three insertions. He cared for his house, he did, and it was the worse for me that I was an infidel on that point, and put my hand into his hole to draw him out.

My Sharpe's rifle cost me $60, Eastern currency, paid for with my even check of $100, on Messrs Sort & Company, my Chicago bankers; this of itself I thought rather a sharp rifle, but then said I, all for country. I took the weapon in my hand and admired it. It had none of the high flashy sheen of burnished metal and varnished wood, seen in our common shooting irons, but the tone of the clouded barrel and black walnut stock was eminently quiet and respectable, made for service. This, said I, shall be an heir loom in my family. Decidedly; I shall hand this down to posterity, as a memento of these times.

Thus armed and equipped I went home to that estimable woman, my wife. "My dear," said I, "this is a Sharpe's rifle." She immediately sent our girl Jane into the room overhead with the baby, a movement I saw she regretted when she observed how studiously I kept the muzzle pointed at the ceiling. "Oh, if it should go off," said she. "It is not loaded," said I. Then I called her to notice that these were times when it was a good thing to have weapons in the family.

Said I, "My dear, this is the celebrated Sharpe's rifle." Such as they used in Kansas?" She asked. I assured her it was the very same. "But the piece has no ramrod," said my wife. "That," said I, repressing a gleam of gratification of the conciousness of superior knowledge," is because it is breech loading." "Is it," said she quietly, and was leaving the room.—

I was burning to show my newly-acquired familiarity with the wonderful weapon, and felt piqued because she had so little curiosity. "If you will sit here, my dear, I will show you."

"In this breech-loading rifle, the lever moves just so, and that thingumbob there flies back, and if you look now your eye can follow the fine rifle twist of the barrel." "I see," said my wife, "but I am afraid the piece is loaded."

"And yet, estimable woman, you are looking straight through the barrel, now an open tube from one end to the other." "How do you touch it off?" asked my wife. "That, my dear, is a beautiful peculiarity of this weapon. The percussion caps are all concealed here under the hammer, and are automaton primers."—"What is that?" said she. "Self-acting," said I. Then I slid back a spring to show her, and out flew a small shower of percussion caps: "I shall do this better in time," said I.

"Now, my dear," said I, oracularly, "This beautiful firearm carries a minie ball. I can fire from eight to ten shots a minute, at a mark from a mile to a mile and a half distant. Think what a weapon this will prove in case of an attack." My wife was so charmed that she insisted that she herself should learn how to fire it.—"A mile and a half said she. "Then you could hit a man somewhere in the vicinity of Bull's Head." I made a little estimate and thought it might be done.

"There is one objection that strikes me," quoth my estimable wife. "You are so very near sighted, my dear. Don't you recollect that you cannot distinguish persons across the street, and often ask me whether it is our dear dector that is sitting in the desk? How are you to see to hit a man a mile and a half off?"—That is indeed an objection," said I, "but that may be obviated by the use of a glass. I shall procure one at once."

A few days after, I went home earlier than usual and took my Sharpe's rifle under my arm for a little practice. Said I, I shall go to the quiet suburbs, and there get up my target practice a little. I took my wife's opera glass with me. I selected a rectangular bit of board, and attached it to a fence, and sweeping the field of vision with my glass, saw nothing to prevent my making a few pretty shots.

As the piece and I mechanically were on familiar terms already I loaded it without difficulty. Shutting the Minie ball in his chamber, "Go little one," said I, sighting through the opera glass as I took aim at the board. Laying down the piece, I ran towards the board. It was a good run—quite a little distance, in fact. That board I found whole—there was not the trace of a Minnie ball to be seen. "Decidedly," said I "that ball has gone astray," and again I swept the field with my glass. This time I was struck with the contortions and antics of a red cow a quarter of a mile away. She was trying to get up, with strong tendency to lie down. To my naked eye she was invisible, With my glass I saw her lie down and roll over on her back. A suspicion flashed across me—a new light on the subject of long-range guns.

I have paid thirty dollars for that cow; my Sharpe's rifle has thus cost me a sum you can estimate from data I have given you. I begin to suspect that it is less an acquisition to the family than I thought. Sure enough one might be called to shoot a burglar, but then the later doings of the ball, which might travel a mile after passing through the burglar, are not very pleasant to contemplate in a city. I doubt if I am as happy with my Sharpe's rifle as a family piece as I fondly hoped I should be. On a war footing, in the tented field you know, it would be a capital thing, said I. "If one wasn't near sighted," said that estimable woman my wife, "for he might kill a cow or his own general officer," said she. I should use an opera glass, of course," said I, nettled, I confess, as I carefully rolled up my Sharpe's rifle in an old blanket. I have not disturbed it since—I am ready for enemics at a mile and a half, however.

ANEDOTE OF GENERAL SCOTT.

The Lancaster Examiner tells a good story of General Scott:—"Several days ago the General was called upon by a Virginian, whom he recognized as an old acquaintance. The visitor, after taking a seat, frankly acknowledged his allegiance to the Southern Confederacy, but presumed that as he came a messenger of mercy, he might safely claim by the courtesies of war a friendly protection. Upon an assurance of entire safety he told his story thus: 'I am in allegiance with the Confederate army, to which I have liberally supplied men, and money, and arms; and whilst I justify and support a resistance to the northern invasion, my individual sense of honor and personal respect for your military greatness impelled me to hazard my life in crossing the borders that I might frankly tell you that in a den of conspirators plotting your assassination, there is one who, at regular intervals, without suspicion or arrest, visits your camps and communicates with your officers. From my own personal knowledge he has, under the guise of patriotic devotion to the Government, removed every obstacle, and he has thoroughly perfected his plans. God only knows at what moment they may put them into execution and you be assassinated.'

"The General gratefully thanked him for his friendly devotion, and asked a description of his treacherous murderer, which was given him in detail. After the departure of the chivalric Virginian, the General, instead of being shocked, appalled or horror struck, merely smiled, which to his Secretary was incomprehensible, who anxiously inquired what it all meant? The General's reply was: 'That Bob again; he is beginning to murder me as he did in Mexico. Bob's a good spy, but he so often unnecessarily troubles my friends that he must stop it.'

DESIRE FOR WATER.—A participator in the fight at Great Bethel, gives the following idea of the risk a soldier will run to obtain water upon the battle field:—"Some of us have had very narrow chances for life. In the course of the fight several of us ran across a road along which the cannon of the enemy were constantly playing, in order to get water. (I find, by the way, that on the battle field a man will risk his life, without hesitation, for water.) Having got it, we were waiting to rush back again dodging the balls in order to do so. Our First Lieutenant sang out, "Don't so many of you come at once." I, with some others, stopped to allow the next lot to pass. They made a rush, and when nearly across, a cannon ball came whizzing along and killed four men, mowing them down instantly."

Why are well-fed chickens like successful farmers? They are blessed with full crops.

Why is the Union like a crab apple? Because, to be worth anything, it must be preserved.

THE NEWS.

Believing that by culling from the telegraphic despatches and rumors those portions which are confirmed, or bear the semblance of truth, we shall give more satisfaction to our readers than by copying contradictory despatches, we will hereafter give the latest and most important news under the above head.

A serious riot occurred at Milwaukie, Wis., on Monday last. On Saturday previous the banks of that place threw out the notes of a large number of banks in that State, which action is supposed to have caused the riot. The attack, which appeared to be regularly organized, was upon the banking houses and real estate offices. Nearly all of these institutions were assailed with brickbrats, stones and clubs, the windows and doors demolished and the books and furniture thrown into the street and destroyed. Policemen were on the ground but were utterly powerless. A military company of 40 men, the Montgomery Guards, were ordered out, but declined to do anything for fear they would be overpowered. The Zouaves were then ordered out and made a bayonet charge upon the mob which immediately broke and run. About 50 of the rioters were arrested and placed in jail and the streets soon cleared. In the evening the mob collected again and, having secured a cannon, threatened to attack the jail unless their friends were released. They were prevented from doing this by the military guard placed around the jail. The Governor proclaimed martial law and telegraphed to other points for State troops. Quite a number of persons were seriously injured during the riot. All is now quiet.

A distressing affair occurred at Wyandotte, Kansas, on the 23d inst., by the falling of the walls of two four-story buildings, burying all the inmates, some 40 in number. The buildings were used as the head-quarters of the First Regiment of Kansas volunteers, and at the time it fell a company of 40 men were drilling in it, a number of whom were instantly killed, and one died shortly after being taken out. Twelve or fifteen were slightly injured and a number escaped without a bruise.

The officers of the State Agricultural Society have decided not to hold a Fair this season. In many counties the usual local exhibitions will be dispensed with.

A despatch from Washington city, dated June 24th, says that Mr. McDonald, a native of Worcester, Mass., who has been working in Mississippi, escaped, and was three times impressed on his way hither, the last time at Acquia Creek, from which place he fled at great peril, swimming eight miles, and reached the U. S. steamer Pawnee, at Maryland Point, completely exhausted. He states that the rebels at Acquia Creek were reinforced, and were 3,000 strong, and in the late engagement with the Freeborn and Anacosta the Confederates lost fifty men killed, and as many wounded.

An escaped slave from the vicinity of Acquia Creek reports that many of the slaveowners have sent their slaves into the army and that all free negroes are being impressed. He says the white people are in great terror of Gen. Scott.

John Ross, Chief of the Cherokee nation, has issued a proclamation to his tribe, reminding them of their obligations to the United States, and urging them not to take part on either side, thereby keeping from their borders the desolation of war.

There is no truth in the statement that Gen. McClellan has made any negotiations with Gov. Magoffin or Gen. Buckner, of Kentucky, not to enter or occupy that State. Gen. Buckner has repeatedly assured Gen. McClellan that no Secession forces will be allowed to pass through that State, and he would like to draw Gen. McClellan into an agreement of neutrality, but the latter will make no arrangement restraining the Government or himself.

The report that commissioners from the Southern Confederacy have been in Washington endeavoring to make a compromise with the Government, turns out to be a hoax. No such agents have been seen in that city.

The Washington reporter for Forney's Press, who, perhaps, is well advised, says that the President's message to the extra-session of Congress, will not recommend any compromise having for its object the reconciliation of those now in arms against the Federal Government. In this he will be sustained. We want no backing out or half done work. We have the men and means to effectually crush out this rebellion, and the people demand that it be done. Some persons cry "peace," but it was by heeding that cry that Sumter was lost and out National Capitol came well nigh falling into the hands of our enemies. Gen. Scott will bring peace at the proper time.

The Federal Government has recognized the provisional government of Virginia, established by the Wheeling Convention, by having regular intercourse with Gov. Pierpont, communicating to him the apportionment of Virginia for the XXXVIII Congress.

The troops under Gen. Patterson are making nightly marches Southward, from Hagerstown, and Gen. McClelland's division, 15,000 strong, is steadily advancing through Virginia from the West. The regiments sent from Harrisburg to reinforce Col. Wallace, at Cumberland, have arrived there, and he is now anxious to revisit Romney. The Second and Third Pennsylvania Regiments, in which are the Blair county companies, accompanied by Perkin's flying artillery, have broke camp at Funkstown, Md., and moved South.

The aspect of affairs in Baltimore has been quite changed within the last few days. On Thursday last, Marshall Kane, Chief of Police in that city, was arrested by order of Gen. Banks, commanding the U. S. forces, at that point, and conveyed to Fort M'Henry, and Col. Kenly appointed Provost Marshall of the city, thus placing it under martial law. Marshal Kane, instead of acting in concert with the U. S. forces, as he pretended, has been secretly aiding the secessionists, and was at the head of an armed band in that city. The Government waited until they had sufficient evidence to convict him, and then took him in charge. The Board of Police Commissioners are very indignant at the arrest of Kane, and have disbanded the entire police force in the city. Col. Kenly has, however, appointed Captains of Police in all the wards, and is now swearing in a new police force. The Union men are jubilant over the action of Gen. Banks.

In another column will be found an account of a skirmish at Matthias' Point, in which a party of 40 U. S. troops were attacked by some 800 or 1200 secessionists. Another warning.

It is said that a misunderstanding has occurred between Gen. Lee and Jeff Davis, and that the former would like to have his old position in the Federal army. We do not know whether to believe the report or not; but of one thing we are certain, and that is, he will never get his old place. There are others who will be sick of volunteering in the rebel army, ere the war is over.

John Minor Botts, of Virginia, is in Washington City as a member of Congress from the Richmond District. He says, "I announced myself as a candidate for the Richmond District, and received 175 votes, which, there being no opposition, elects me." Mr. Botts is a strong Union man, and reached Washington by disguising himself.

CATHOLIC OPINIONS ON THE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Catholic Telegraph asks the question "whether a naturalized citizen, even in the South, can take part with the Southern Confederacy without the guilt of perjury," to which the editors reply:

"An oath binds a man under penalty of perjury, to what he conscientiously considered his words to promise. Apart from ignorance, prejudice, or false representation, we believe that every naturalized citizen has, according to the intent of the form of naturalization, sworn to support the legally constituted Government at Washington. Many a poor man may have been taught however, that his obligations were not of this character, and may therefore, without willing to perjure himself, be carried away by the waves of public opinion about him to the wrong side."

To this reply, the Boston Pilot adds the following:

"It becomes the duty of every clergyman in the seceded States to abstain from any act that may lead their people to believe that they are released from the obligation of their oath of allegiance. The appointment to a chaplaincy in a rebel regiment does not imply that the chaplain sanctions the violation of the oath. He only lends his services to reconcile with God a dying soldier who may have been guilty of perjury."

SUSPICIOUS CRAFT ON OUR COAST.—A large sloop, apparently a stranger in our neighborhood, has been seen cruising for the past week from Dewee's Inlet, along the coast of Long Island, disappearing occasionally for five or six hours, and again returning towards the shore. As many as twenty-five or thirty men were seen upon her decks, and it is supposed that she is engaged in sounding and reconnoitring along our coast in that neighborhood. Her occasional absence is probably to report to the Yankee blockading fleet. That portion of our coast is entirely unprotected, and depredations could be readily committed upon the property and cattle to be found there, without meeting with opposition. It is to be hoped the matter will be examined into at once.—Charleston Courier, 19th.

Travel North and South.

The American Railway Review says that the present disturbed state of society in the South is inducing many families to leave for the North, and many others are departing for Europe. It is refreshing to learn by the following extract from a Vicksburg (Miss.) paper, that it is still safe for Southerners to come North. Is it as safe for Northerners to go South? What a commentary on condition of affairs in the two sections of the country. The rebels will arm themselves with all kinds of death-dealing implements and array themselves against the Northern Union men, and, fearing that their families are not safe at home, will send them up here to be protected by these same Northerners:

"We learn from the best authority, and by the most recent date possible, that the excitement in New York city has entirely subsided, and that the reported 'Terrorism' has been greatly exaggerated. We do not suppose that many gentlemen of the South purpose to summer in the North this season; but as there are many ladies in the South who are obliged to go North on account of the climate, we have been requested to state that they will find themselves as safe and comfortable as usual in New York."

The Northern tendency of the Southern families is confirmed by the following extracts:

The Memphis Appeal says:

"A great many Southerners are sending their families North for the summer, and as the boats on the river are mostly laid up on account of the blockade, this travel is taking the rail."

The St. Louis Democrat, referring to this travel, says:

"A great many Southerners are sending their families North for protection, yet they talk about the horrible and barbarous war of extermination the North are waging against them.—Will any gentleman of Secession proclivities tell us whether this isn't the first instance on record where a party at war have sent their women and children to their enemies for protection?"

The Louisville papers speak of the large loads of people coming into that city daily, on their way North, over the Louisville and Nashville Road, and by the new rout via Bowling Green, from Memphis.

The Cincinnati Gazette says of the roads in that State:

"Our own roads, the Miami and Hamilton and Dayton, already begin to feel the effects of this travel, and have wisely concluded to keep on their Cincinnati Express. The Ohio and Mississippi, Indianapolis and Cincinnati, and the mail boats, are doing a fair business—the latter, in particular, are making good trips between this city and Louisville. Our hotels are also showing, in their registers, the presence of many Southerners who are traveling North.

"The routes that will be mostly patronized this summer, will, we think, be the New York Central and Pennsylvania Central. Most of the Southern travel will come North through Louisville, either by boat or the Jeffersonville and Ohio and Mississippi Railroads. From what we hear, the Cairo route will be given the go-by."

As the seat of war has been transferred to Virginia all summer resorts in the mountains of that State will, as a matter of course, be closed or at least they will have no visitors. The same may be said of Kentucky, her Mammoth Cave and Blue Lick Springs will be neglected, as their proximity to the camp at Cairo, and to the camps at Columbus and Paducah, might render them unhealthy.

Skirmish at Matthias Point.

WASHINGTON, June 25.

The steamer Pawnee arrived at the navy yard this morning, bringing interesting but painful intelligence from Mathias Point. According to the statement of persons in the expedition, Capt. Ward, of the Freeborn, yesterday obtained from Capt. Rawar of the Pawnee a reinforcement of about twenty men, united with others from his own vessel, comprising between thirty and forty in all, started in several cutters for Mathias Point, taking with them about 250 bags which were filled with sand on shore, and with which earthworks were soon erected, the proceedings being under the direction of Lieut. Chaplin.

While in the act of returning to the Freeborn, for the purpose, it is stated, of obtaining cannon for the battery, a force of Confederates, variously estimated at from 800 to 1200, suddenly emerged from the thick woods in which they had been concealed, and poured a volley of shot into the Federal party, who made a hasty retreat, several of the men by swimming, to the Freeborn.

Capt. Ward, on the Freeborn, protected his men as far as possible with his guns and fired twelve or fifteen shot among the rebels, with what effect it could not be ascertained. While in the act of firing a gun after, it is said, the gunner had been wounded, Capt. Ward was struck in the breast by a bullet, and in the course of an hour thereafter died from internal hemorrhage.

A sailor named Wm. J. Bess was wounded in four places, it is feared mortally. Several others were also wounded, among them Jacob Williams the cox swain, a ball entering his thigh. The flag he carried was completely riddled. The men all reached the vessels without further damage.

It is said that after the federal force retreated from Mathias Point, the breastworks were immediately occupied by the confederates, and that information had early in the day been communicated by a negro belonging to Dr. Howe, whose house was burnt by a party from the Resolute on Tuesday, that the enemy were in the neighborhood at least a thousand strong.

The negro had approached the Federal party as a fugitive with his shirt on a pole as a kind of flag of truce. He has been brought to Washington quite happy because of his escape from the neighborhood.

How a Rebel Spy was Arrested.

A special dispatch to the Pennsylvania Telegraph, dated Hagerstown, Maryland, June 22, says: "A man was observed fording the river yesterday, dressed in a peculiar style, and upon reaching the Maryland side one of Capt. McMullin's Rangers arrested him. He was searched at once, when it was discovered that he had very important letters for a lawyer of this place named Alvey. The prisoner was quietly conducted to a place of safe keeping and divested of his clothing. One of Capt. McMullin's men disguised himself in the same, and represented himself as the genuine bearer of despatches to Mr. Alvey, who fell into the trap and divulged important matters to his supposed Virginia friend. After everything had been surely accomplished, Mr. Alvey was arrested, and subsequently sent to Washington city. His arrest created quite a sensation in this town, as he was never suspected of treason, and stood high in the estimation of the citizens here. A traitor's doom awaits him." Not a bit of it. He will be released after taking the oath of allegiance, with mental reservations.

☞ Parson Brownlow, in the Knoxville Whig of the 1st inst., thus disposes of certain rumors: One report is that we have determined not to publish after the June election, and another is that we are going to remove to the North. We are going to stay in Knoxville, and nowhere else, and when we remove from the dwelling we own and occupy, it will be to the cemetery in this vicinity. And as to the paper, we shall edit and publish it until our office is destroyed, or our windpipe cut."

The Military Punishment at Fortress Monroe.

The following sentence was passed by a court-martial, at Fortress Monroe, on three soldiers of a regiment of New York volunteers:

"To be drummed out of the regiment, and through the entire brigade, stripped of his uniform, with a rope about his neck, and a placard, with the word 'Thief' on his back. Further, that he forfeit all pay and allowance now due him, or to become due him at the time of the promulgation of his sentence, and to be dishonorably discharged from the service of the United States."

General Butler approved the sentence. Another volunteer of the same regiment was sentenced to "three days' hard labor, with ball and chain attached to the right leg, the ball to weigh twelve pounds." In approving this sentence, Gen. Butler said:

The proceedings and sentence in the case of Lawrence Merriman, Company D, Second Regiment, New York Volunteers, are hereby approved and are to be carried into effect before the general court-martial is dissolved. While the severe and disgracing punishment awarded may at first thought seem too severe, for being "a mile away from camp without permission," it will be seen by the evidence that he was so absent, aiding and abetting a band of plunderers.

B. F. BUTLER,
Maj. Gen. Commanding.

These sentences, it will be seen, are for plundering, and aiding and abetting the plunderers. The men were sent to their homes with the following free passes on the steamboats and rail roads:

An Item for Volunteers.

We find the following item floating about on the great sea of newspaperdom, like "Japhet in search of a father," and print it for the benefit of our soldier friends, many of whom are readers of the Tribune. It contains excellent suggestions and good advice by which they may profit.

BULLETS LESS DANGEROUS THAN FEVERS.—Recruits going to the war always talk of their return with a proviso, that the enemy's bullets do not prevent them. Yet it is an established fact that in the modern campaigns the danger to life is three to one greater from disease than from the bullet.

The British army in the Crimean War lost 33,043 out of 94,000 troops. Of these, only 2,658 were killed in action; and only 1,761 died of their wounds. But 16,298 died of disease at the seat of War, and nearly 13,000 were sent home on account of their sickness. Where one man was under the surgeon's hands for wounds, twelve were under the doctor's hands for tyhus fever, dysentery, or some other of the diseases brought on by bad food, improper or insufficient camping arrangements, or the dissipation incident to a crowded camp, in which men have much idle time. 7,500 French soldiers were slain in battle: 50,000 perished of disease, and 65,000 more were discharged and sent home from the seat of war, as invalids.—In our Mexican war our army lost nearly 13,000 men, while quite as many were discharged for sickness. Only 1,848 men were killed, or died of their wounds, in all the battles fought, as numerous as they were. These facts, while they should inspirit the soldiers in battle, should also make them cautious of their health when lying in camp, or on long marches. Good plain food, eaten at regular intervals, healthful and amusing exercises, sufficient clothing to protect the body from the sudden changes of weather, and the avoidance of all excess in eating and drinking, especially intoxicating stimulants, will do much to preserve the good health of the soldiers.

FEARFUL TORNADO IN ILLINOIS.—On the 19th inst., a terrible tornado swept over Champaign county, Illinois. A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune says that, after the wind had tested the moving capacity of everything partable, then came a shower of hail, which converted our immense crops of ripening wheat and waving corn into a barren waste. There are many farms in the vicinity of Champaign city upon which there is not now a green leaf or a blade of grass left. Wheat, oats, barley, and rye are entirely ruined. I visited many fields to-day, and found the small grain mown to the ground as with a scythe and the stalks were beaten and shivered, looking as though they had passed through a threshing machine. Corn which was one and a half feet high was cut off even with the ground, and the stalk beaten to a jelly an inch below the surface. Up to this date we have heard of five persons who here killed, and quite a number who were more or less seriously wounded.

AGES OF THE GENERALS.—Lieut. Gen. Scott is 75 years old; Gen. Wool is 73; Harney 65; Mansfield 60; Totten, (head of the Engineer corps,) 80: Thayer, (Engineers) 80; Craig, (head of the Ordinance Department,) 76; Ripley (Ordinance,) 70; Gibson, (Commissary General,) Churchill, (Inspector General) and Thomas, (Adjutant General,) are all old men, having entered the army in the beginning of the present century—Gibson in 1808, and Churchill in 1812. Gen. McLellan is not yet 35; Gen. Fremont is under 48; Gen. Lyons is about 44; Gen. Butler is 43; and Gen. Banks is 44; Gen. McDowell is about 40.—Boston Transcript.

☞ The following is the oath which all volunteers and regulars, mustered into the service of the United States are required to take before the final enrollment:

"I, ——— ———, do solemnly swear that I will bear true allegiance to the United States of America: that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all enemies or oppressors whatever; that I will obey the orders of the President of the United States and of the officers appointed over me, according to the rules of the armies of the United States, so help me God."

A COMBINATION AGAINST TOBACCO.—An anti tobacco organization is now forming throughout France, and the men that give tone to society there belong to it, such as physicians, lawyers, savans, academicians, State councillors—all resolved to wage unceasing warfare on that enemy to the health and pocket of man, the weed. If these reformers curtail its consumption, the result will be speedily felt in the public revenue, for the annual income from this source alone comes very near $10,000,000.

Searching for Contraband of War.

A correspondent of the Boston Journal relates incidents attending the search for contrabands at the Relay House. We quote:

You hear the whistle of the train bound for Harper's Ferry. As it comes rounding the curve the guard is drawn up on each side of the track. Soon as the train stops, a soldier steps on each platform of every car, and see that no one gets off or on. The one, whose business it is to "develop" any contraband articles or persons, enters the forward passenger car. He looks on and under the first seat and finds nothing but a very suspicious female. Her hoops are very large, and she looks about the waist as though she indulged in a free use of cotton, or else is a walking freight train in the service of the rebels. The searcher looks, but dosn't know what to do.—He cannot, of course, treat her as he would a man, for everybody would call him a brute, and besides, he has no taste for such things. At last, he timidly requests that she will rise, in the hope that some treasonable article may fall and discover her character.

Here is a man who looks a little confused, or else puts on a stolid expression, as though he were utterly indifferent. After having carefully investigated this seat, the searcher politely asks the individual to empty his pockets. Mind you this is really done politely, and while asking a thousand pardons for the demand. All letters directed to individuals south of the Potomac are confiscated. Often-times they have been found to contain valuable information. If the man is very suspicious the search is correspondingly rigid. The hands are passed over his coat, his vest, and woe be to him if anything is discovered that stamps him as a spy. So the cars are looked through one by one. Some of the passengers laugh, some grow mad and swear, some at once see the reason of the thing and yield at once, others bluster and threaten, and have to be shut up by the fear of immediate arrest if they open their mouths again.

The searcher then says, all who have baggage will please step into the forward car. He then asks each man to open his trunk, and passes his hand as carefully as may be through the bundles of varieties with which human beings fill their traveling apparatus. One's luggage does not undergo one half the danger which it is subjected to in a Liverpool Custom House. I have seen both classes of operators, and I would much prefer to go by the Relay than to land in Liverpool.

Suddenly the searcher comes across a common looking, red, wooden trunk. It is marked Mary Birkett, Wheeling, Va. There is nothing suspicious about it. It looks in keeping with some village aunt who had forsaken the company of the coarser sex, and had just returned from a visit to some relations who had lately thrown themselves away by swearing in the presence of a parson to keep house, neatly and economically for some one of those worthless creatures called men. The searcher calls out for Mary to come and display her dry goods; but no Mary is to be found. He calls again, but with the same result. The conductor is questioned, but he knows nothing about the matter. The thing looks all right, but it won't do to let even Mary Birkett's trunk go on without knowing what is in it. So after having sounded another call for the spinster to make her appearance, the searcher calls for a hammer and chisel, and opens the thing. Nothing alarming is presented.—On the top is a very white, and nicely done up pair of sleeves. Then comes a chemisette, and then a dress, and then—two millions of percussion caps. Ah! Mary, that was a sorry dodge. No wonder you didn't answer when your name was called. Why, my dear Mary, you have here more caps than you could wear in a dozen lifetimes. The trunk is confiscated.

Col. Jones was once going through a train on the scent of suspicious articles. He saw between two seats a small basket. The top was partly raised and discovered some sandwiches, gingerbread, &c. It was of course nothing surprising to see a luncheon basket in the cars.—The conductor came up and said: "Colonel, an old woman owns that basket, I believe she has stepped into the forward car." Well, that was very reasonable. However, just as he was going to leave it, the Colonel put his little finger under the handle, to see how much a basket of luncheon weighs, you know. But the thing didn't come up. Somehow it stuck to the floor. He then applied his whole hand, and after removing the gingerbread, he discovered about half a peck of bright brass buttons, which were on their way to adorn the uniforms of Virginia rebels

A MASSACHUSETTS CAPTAIN.—Dr. Howe's report upon the sanitary condition of the troops at Washington, contains the following incident:

"There will be many captains like one whom I could name in the Massachusetts 5th,—the stalwart man, every inch of whose six feet is of soldier stamp; the captain who eschews hotel dinners, and takes every meal with his men, eating only what they eat; but who is their resolute and rigid commander when on duty, but their kind and faithful companion and friend when off duty; who lies down with them upon the bare ground or floor, and if there be not blankets enough for all, refuses to use one himself; who often gets up in the night and draws the blankets over any half covered sleeper, and carries water to any one who may be feverish and thirsty; the man who is like a father as well as a captain to his soldiers."

He is the man who administered that stern rebuke the other day to the upstart West Point Cadet, sent to drill the company. The first day the Cadet interlarded his orders with oaths—his commands with curses. The men complained to their captain. "I'll stop that to-morrow," says he. The next day drill begins, and the cadet begins to swear at the soldiers. "Please not to swear at my men, sir," says the captain. "What do you know about the drill," says the Cadet, "and what can you do about my swearing?" "Sir," says the captain sternly, "I know this, and you ought to know it,—swearing is forbidden by the army regulations, and if you continue to break the rule, I'll order my men to march off the ground, and they'll obey me, and leave you to swear alone." The Cadet took the rebuke and swore no more at that company."

The captain to whom Dr. Howe refers was Capt. George L. Prescott, of Concord. This glorious Concord captain likewise uttered the noble sentiment that he considered himself responsible for the moral department of the young men under his charge as well as for their health and good treatment.

SOUND OF BALLS.—An Albany Zouave who was in the Bethel affair, says: The enemy soon found out where we were, and began to throw their fire into the wood, but, fortunately for us, they aimed a little too high. Every instant we could hear the balls whizzing through the air and crashing among the trees. We could tell each kind of ball or bullet by the sound it made in passing through the air. There was one rifled cannon, the balls from which rushed along with a shrill, angry shriek, as it may be called, like the sound of a steam whistle; the big balls and shells went humming along, and there was also the hiss of grape shot and rifle and musket balls.

SECRETARY CHASE is engaged in maturing business for the extra session of Congress. He proposes to borrow money of the people at large instead of the bankers, which is Louis Napoleon's style. The smallest denomination of notes will be twenty dollars and preference given to small note takers. The notes will bear seven per cent interest. Postmasters will probably be made agents for the sale of the notes. A modification of the tariff will be indispensable. Care will be taken not to offend great interests that have claimed protection, but the tariff will be so arranged that its paramount object shall be the raising of the revenue.

CANANDAIGUA, July 15, 1853.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburg, Pa.:—Gentlemen: As we are strangers, I herewith enclose you twenty-five dollars for four dozen Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which please forward via Michigan Southern Railroad, Toledo, Ohio, and Clayton Station. I have purchased several dozen bottles at Toledo this Summer, but the sale in this section increases so much that I wish to open a direct trade with you. I was induced to try your Bitters by my physician, for the Liver Complaint, and received such material relief that I have recommended it to others and have sold about a dozen per week for some time. I have all kinds of Medicine in my store, but there is none that I can so fully and truthfully recommend as your Bitters, for I know they have helped me beyond my expectation. Yours respectfully,

This recipe has cured great numbers who were suffering from Consumption, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Coughs and Colds, and the debility and nervous depression caused by these diseases.

Desirous of benefitting others, I will send this recipe, which I brought home with me, to all who need it, free of charge.

☞ THE GREAT CLOTHING EMPORIUM OF THE UNION.—Philadelphia possesses the most splendid Clothing Emporium in the country. It is splendid as regards the magnificent structure in which the immense business of the establishment is conducted, and it is equally splendid in regard to its great facilities and vast resources. But to its patrons its chief attractions are, first, the elegance of the garments for Gentlemen and Youths; manufactured there; secondly, the beauty and durability of the materials, and the superior excellence of the fit, and lastly the moderate prices at which the goods are sold. We refer, in this description, to none other than the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut St., above Sixth, Philadelphia.

☞ We invite special attention to the advertisement of Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator, in another column. For weakness and general debility there is nothing like it: it will strengthen, exhilarate, create an appetite at once, regulate the bilious system, aid digestion, and in short, restore the weakened organs to all their original vigor and strength. So valuable a Tonic Cordial should be in the hands of every invalid and in every family. Reader, try it.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FOURTH.—Up to time the following arrangements have been made for the observation of the Fourth of July in this place:

Between the hours of three and five o'clock in the morning, 34 rounds will be fired from the swivel, under the management of the Fire Eagles, (Company D,) Capt. A. A. Smyth; 34 rounds by the Riflemen, (Company A,) Capt. Boyden, from the top of the hill above the Ward. At 7 o'clock in the morning, Company B, Capt. Turner, will meet at their armory, and from thence proceed to the Episcopal Church in compliance with an invitation extended to them to attend the services to be held there at 10 o'clock.

The Catholic pic-nics will come off at the places named in last week's paper, viz: in Cartney's Woods and Beales' Woods.

The Select Club will hold their pic-nic in the grove adjoining West Ward School property.

We have had intimation that Capt. Crissman's company, of "Home Guards" from Sinking Valley, will pay the "Home Guards" of this place a visit on that day. Hope they are in the notion of doing so.

Arrangements are to be made to-day, (Monday,) which may lead to a meeting of the Allegheny Cavalry, of Duncansville, and the "Home Guard" Cavalry of Logan township, at this place on the Fourth. If that be accomplished, we expect quite a military display.

ANOTHER SCOTT.—Our cotemporary of the Erie City Dispatch pays the following just and merited compliment to Col. Thos. A. Scott, the General Superintendent, now Vice President of the Pennsylvania Rail Road, and also General Manager of all the rail roads under the control of the General Government. The Dispatch says:

—When the history of the present war shall be written, it will show that more than one Scott deserves honorable mention. When the first rush of soldiers found their way to the Pennsylvania rail road at different points, all eager and clamoring to go immediately forward, Thomas A. Scott, having first erected a telegraph line into the Governor's apartment at Harrisburg, sat, with watch in hand, telegraphing to all points to prevent trains from interfering with each other. While those around him were anxious and excited, fearing accidents from the great rush, he was cool and collected as if business was on his mind. But he kept at post, day and night, tiring out those who indicied they had great powers of endurance. And during that unprecedented rush not a single accident occurred to life or property. We do not believe there is another man in the country who could have accomplished so much business in so short a space of time, without accident. Mr. Scott's abilities were appreciated at Washington, and we now find him in charge of all the rail roads leading to that city which are in possession of the Government. No man is rendering more important service, and none could be found so admirably adapted to the place.

HOW TO PRODUCE CIVIL WAR AMONG RATS.—As there are any quantity of these "shave tail" quadrupeds in these "diggins," the following manner of producing civil war among them might be tried with amusement and success: Take a barrel with one head out, put in water of sufficient depth to drown the rats. Fasten over the top some thin elastic covering—a drum head or sheep-skin with the wool off will do. When they have got well baited, slit the cover transversely with a thin knife, so that the incision will meet in the centre. A brick should be set on its end in the water, or some solid substance of sufficient height to allow of only a rat only to stand upon it. When all this is rightly prepared, the rats as they go on the barrel will be let down by the trap-door into the water. A struggle will commence to obtain possession of the island. Their cries for help will be heard by other rats about the premises, they will rush upon the top of the barrel, and be precipitated into the water together, and a regular Kilkenny fight will ensue.

☞ The editor of the Cambria Tribune, who is well acquainted with Messrs. Murphy & McPike, the gentlemen who have opened a store in Ferroe & Morrow's old store-room, pays them the following compliment, which is well merited:

"Messrs. John J. Murphy, late of the firm of Geis & Murphy, and H. A. McPike, late Junior of the Echo, have established themselves in the mercantile business at Altoona, under the firm name of Murphy & McPike. We wish them success—an end they are sure to attain, however, if they can but induce the good people of Altoona to cultivate their acquaintance. A better salesman than Murphy, or a more accommodating gentleman than McPike would be hard to find. Zatso!"

☞ We issue our paper this week considerably in advance of our usual day of publication in order to give all hands a chance to get a little recreation and enjoy themselves as they feel inclined on the glorious Fourth, and at the same time give out subscribers their paper.

PARADE.—Company B. will meet at their armory at 2 o'clock P. M., on Wednesday next for parade and drill. It is desired that every member have his uniform by that time, and be in attendance

Their cries for help will be heard by other rats about the premises, they will rush upon the top of the barrel, and be precipitated into the water together, and a regular Kilkenny fight will ensue.

☞ The editor of the Cambria Tribune, who is well acquainted with Messrs. Murphy & McPike, the gentlemen who have opened a store in Ferree & Morrow's old store-room, pays them the following compliment, which is well merited:

"Messrs. John J. Murphy, late of the firm of Geis & Murphy, and H. A. McPike, late Junior of the Echo, have established themselves in the mercantile business at Altoona, under the firm name of Murphy & McPike. We wish them success—an end they are sure to attain, however, if they can but induce the good people of Altoona to cultivate their acquaintance. A better salesman than Murphy, or a more accommodating gentleman than McPike would be hard to find. Zatso!"

☞ We issue our paper this week considerably in advance of our usual day of publication, in order to give all hands a chance to get a little recreation and enjoy themselves as they feel inclined on the glorious Fourth, and at the same time give out subscribers their paper.

PARADE.—Company B. will meet at their armory at 2 o'clock P. M., on Wednesday next, for parade and drill. It is desired that every member have his uniform by that time, and be in attendance.

☞ The coming "Fourth" bids fair to be a grand gala day all over the loyal portion of the Union. Take up any paper, and you will find accounts of great preparations for pic-nics, festive gatherings, &c., for that day—the dearest to American hearts,—the mention of which fills every heart with patriotism and devotion; and brings forth, in tones of eloquence, the tales of history that are gathered around it. Altoona will not be behind other places; we notice quite extensive preparations going on.—At this time it is very important to mention to the citizens of Altoona and vicinity, that it will be quite profitable for them to purchase their paints, oils, drugs, medicines, perfumes, &c., at Roush's cheap drug store, a few doors above the Post-Office.

THE RETURN.—The return of a friend, after an absence of months, is always hailed with delight; so likewise is the return of Fettinger hailed with delight by the boys, because he always brings the Holiday and Fourth of July articles that please them. He has just returned from the East with a large stock of everything necessary to celebrate the Fourth—such as flags, varying in price from one cent to one dollar, roman candles with from one to sixteen balls, flower pots, chasers, sky-rockets, and everything in that line, together with drums of all kinds, from the very best down to 12½ cents; a choice lot of lemons, oranges, and confectionaries, and, we had almost forgot to notice, miniature guns for the children. Fet's is the place to find your Fourth of July fixin's.

HURT.—On Monday last, Tobias Kreider, a fireman on one of the freight trains between this place and Harrisburg, was seriously injured by jumping from his engine, in the vicinity of Blair Furnace, a short distance below this place. It appears the train was running at full speed when one of the guage-cocks blew out, and after it came a stream of hot water which struck him on the back and legs, scalding him a little.—Not knowing exactly what was the matter, and thinking the engine was about to blow up, he jumped off, falling on his hands and face, and badly bruising himself. No bones were broken, but he was hurt inwardly.

SOLDIER HURT.—We learn from the papers down the road, that one of the soldiers in the Second Regiment from Wisconsin, which passed this place on Saturday week, was knocked off the top of the car by a bridge, at Perrysville, and, one account says, intantly killed, and another, badly injured. We have been fearful of an accident of this kind, from the fact that many of the soldiers take their position on the top of the cars as soon as the train pulls out, and as there are so many bridges, and some of them quite low, on the line of the road, the only wonder is that a dozen, instead of one, have not been hurt.

HOW TO PRESERVE STRAWBERRIES.—A cotemporary gives the following receipt for preserving strawberries:—To two pounds of fine large strawberries add two pounds of powdered sugar, and put them in a preserving kettle, over a slow fire, till the sugar is melted; then boil them precisely twenty minutes, as fast as possible; have ready a number of small jars, and put the fruit in boiling hot. Cork and seal the jars immediately, and keep them through the summer in a cold dry cellar. The jars must be heated before the hot fruit is poured in, otherwise they will break.

GO TO THE CORNER.—Go the corner of Main and Annie streets if you wish to get a supply of fire-crackers, of every description, with which to celebrate the coming Fourth. Also, if you wish choice confectioneries, good segars and tobacco, letter or note paper, national or plain, envelopes of all kinds. Also, a fresh stock of lemons, oranges, &c., just received. Go to Clabaugh's, on the corner, if you wish nice things for the Fourth, or any other time. You'll get the worth of your money there.

KNICK-KNACKS FOR THE FOURTH.—A general assortment of fire-crackers and fireworks, such as are usually exploded by the juveniles on Independence Day, may be found at Weis' establishment on the corner above Hileman's store. He has also a full stock of more costly firework, such as rockets, roman candles, etc., together with a fine selection of the richest confectioneries, fresh fruit and nuts, all kinds of cakes for pic-nics, pies, crackers, cheese, and a large supply of groceries. Give Jacob a call.

HIGH CONSTABLE.—Our long friend, Joseph P. Trout, or "Uncle Joe," as he is familiarly called, has been appointed High Constable of the Borough, by the Town Council. He has just issued a notice to the citizens to pen up their hogs, and woe betide them if they heed it not. With two constables like "Old Joe" and "Uncle Joe," we think things will be kept pretty straight within the limits of their bailiwick. Look out for the two "Joes."

DROWNED HIMSELF.—Cornelius McConnell, of Newry, in this county, left his residence some time during the night of Tuesday, 24th, and drowned himself in a stream near the town. It is said that a close watch has been kept on him for some time, fears being entertained, from the disturbed state of his mind, that he intended to destroy himself. In his intercourse with men he was considered a clever neighbor.—Whig.

☞ Brig. Gen. Robert Anderson, the hero of Fort Sumpter, is not at Altoona, as many papers have published, but at the Cresson House, up on the mountain. He was invited to that place by Mr. Mullin, the new lessee of the house. He arrived there on Wednesday last, and will remain during the heated term, with a view of recruiting his health, which is said to have been impaired by his close confinement at Fort Sumter.

☞ On Wednesday evening last some twelve or fourteen officers heretofore connected with Col. Wallace's Regiment of Indiana Zouaves, passed through this place on their way to their State to recruit new companies. They had with them a secession flag and a lot of pistols, guns, &c., captured in the skirmish at Romney. The flag is said to have been a rather sorry looking affair.

☞ The reservoir is being covered with a substantial roof.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

☞ Promising—the crops.

☞ Delightful—the weather in this region.

☞ General Dembrinski, a distinguished Polish officer, has offered his services to the government.

☞ Pieces of the planking of the stairway of the Marshall House, Alexandria, are selling in Chicago, Ill., at $1 per square inch.

☞ Major Winthrop's funeral in New Haven, Conn., on Friday week, was attended by a procession of over one thousand persons.

☞ What the Southern Confederacy asked three months ago—"Let us alone." What the Southern Confederacy asks now—Give us a loan.

☞ Gov. Morgan, of Indiana, has contracted with parties now in Europe for three thousand Enfield rifles, which were to be delivered in June.

☞ Advices from the interior of Virginia represent the people as despondent, and the army poorly provided. Gen. Scott's delay, which irritates us, consumes them.

☞ The Governor has fixed the 6th of September for the execution of Weaver, convicted at the April term of the Perry county court of the murder of his wife.

☞ The New York Fire Zouaves, encamped near Alexandria, have been running a mill, where they found a large quantity of wheat. They proved themselves good millers.

☞ Thirty-four companies of bona fide Kentuckians have been tendered to the Government for the war. They will probably be formed into regiments and mustered into service.

☞ Gov. Robison, of Kansas, has issued a proclamation calling on all good citizens to organize military companies for the purpose of repelling attacks from the rebels in Missouri.

☞ The latest from Europe is very encouraging. Prominent Englishmen write that they have no longer any doubt that the Confederate rebellion will be crushed. Lord Lyons expresses such confidence.

☞ Wigfall, disguised as a cattle-drover, is said to have been in Washington lately. Not at all likely. If, however, he had disguised himself as a gentleman, he might have passed unchallenged anywhere.

☞ Hon. J. R. Edie, of Pennsylvania, (member of the 34th and 35th Congress,) has been appointed a Major in the army, and is assigned to the Fifteenth regiment of infantry, head-quarters at Annapolis.

☞ An exchange paper, speaking of Governor Jackson, of Missouri, says that, if his fifty thousand volunteers are to rendezvous where their commander is to be found, they will have to belong to the flying artillery.

☞ The graduating class at West Point, whose term expired on Tuesday, numbers forty-five, and they will be promptly divided out among the various regiments of the regular service, where such lieutenants are very much needed.

☞ The number of troops tendered by responsible parties to the President is 575,000 men. It is believed that it would be no difficult matter for the War Department to put an additional force of 100,000 men in the field in thirty days from the date of the order.

☞ John Minor Botts, just from Richmond, says that Gen. Beauregard has sent a circular South from which the following is a quotation:—"If the Cotton States do not raise and equip one hundred thousand men in six weeks, we are ruined." Their ruin is inevitable.

☞ In reply to the instructions of the Governor of Virginia, forbidding anymore flour from being shipped from Virginia to the North, the citizens of Ottawa, Ill., at a meeting held on the 26th ult., resolved that Illinois will not furnish Virginia with any more tobacco!

☞ An affray occurred in the streets of Leavenworth, Kansas, on Thursday week, between D. R. Anthony, proprietor of the Daily Conservative, and R. O. Saterlee, of the Daily Herald, in which several shots were exchanged. Saterlee received a ball in his right side, and died in twenty minutes.

☞ A brother of Jackson, the man who shot Col. Ellsworth, was recognized and captured in the camp of the Eighth New York Regiment, on Tuesday morning last, at one o'clock. At the time of his arrest he was making inquiries, and had just been asking a guard to tell him where to find Gen. McDowell's head quarters.

☞ The Louisville Democrat says that in Butler Co., Ky., which is in the southern part of the State, close on the Tennessee line, there was cast the most overwhelming vote for the Union, of any county in the State. Southern Kentucky has beaten Louisville. They are in sight of the armed mob of Tennessee, yet strong for the Federal Government.

☞ The Ninth Pennsylvania Regiment was the first that forded the Potomac, waist deep, at Williamsport. It is said they dashed in with a whoop, and as they struck the bank on "Old Virginia's shore," they raised a rousing cheer, making the welkin ring. The buglers and fifers played and the men sung "Dixie," as they passed through the town.

☞ A maiden lady in Boston, on reading the account of the marriage of Miss Georgiana Ives, at Chicago, to young Bentley, who saved her from drowning at the sinking of the steamer Lady Elgin, said: "It's a very romantic affair, no doubt, but I would rather be drowned any time than to sit half the night with a young man, on a piece of a wreck, in my night-gown!"

☞ A majority of the Southern daily papers have reduced their dimensions one-half, while many others have been suspended entirely. The New Orleans papers are suffering greatly in curtailed advertising and diminished subscription patronage. All the result of Secession, yet these are the journals that have been for years boasting of the benefits to be derived from disunion.

☞ The Bethel affair was not the only instance which has occurred of the Federal troops firing into each other. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes that "portions of the two attacking columns at Phillippi actually fired on each other, precisely as the Federal troops did at Bethel, and the fact that they were over half a mile apart was all that prevented a terrible slaughter."

☞ The Committee on Foreign Affairs, of the Rebel States, in a recent labored report, perpetrated the following rich official joke: "Our late associates in the government of the United States have seized the whole of the United States Navy, one-half of which belongs to us, and design using it against us." The United States Government is actually charged with having seized its own ships!

☞ The Ames Company at Chicopee, Massachusetts, are turning out seven brass cannon—one more than a battery—every week, and old smooth-bore guns, including columbiads, are being rifled for the use of the James conical ball and shell. The company are also turning out four hundred shot and shell daily, and three thousand swords and one thousand sword bayonets for Sharpe's and Colt's rifles, monthly.

☞ Just before starting for the battle in which he was killed, Lieut. Greble wrote on a piece of paper, in pencil, for his wife: "May God bless you, my darling, and grant you a happy and peaceful life. May the good Father protect you and me, and grant that we may long live happily together. God give me strength, wisdom and courage. If I die, let me die as a brave and honorable man; let no stain of dishonor hang over me or you."

☞ A French engineer in New Orleans offers to destroy the blockading steamer Brooklyn for twenty thousand dollars. Another ambitious individual is willing to undertake the job for sixty thousand dollars, and a third proposes to do the work nicely for one hundred thousand dollars, payment to be made when the job is finished. The job is about as likely to be completed as the Confederate Treasury is to contain that amount of money.

☞ At one time during the fight at Booneville, when bullets were flying thick, and Gen. Lyon was at the head of the column mounted, he undertook to dismount, that his position might be a trifle less conspicuous, when his horse suddenly jumped with fright, throwing the General to the ground, but without injuring him seriously. The rumor suddenly spread through the ranks, that General Lyon had been shot from his horse, and the indignation and cries of vengeance were terrific.

☞ A SOUTHERNER'S ODE.—

'Neath a ragged Palmetto a Southerner sat,
A twisting the band of his Panama hat,
And trying to lighten his mind of a load,
By humming the words of the following ode:
"Oh! for a nigger, and oh! for a whip;
Oh! for a cocktail, and oh! for a nip;
Oh! for a shot at old Greely and Beecher;
Oh! for a shot at a Yankee school-teacher;
Oh! for a captain, and oh! for a ship;
Oh! for a cargo of niggers each trip."
And so he kept oh-ing for all he had not,
Not contented with owing for all he had got.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN,
Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about 4 months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

Very respectfully,
BEN. A. LAVENDER.

To O J Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, New York.

My family are absent from the city, and I am no longer at No. 11 Carroll Place.

Slamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O J Wood: Dear Sir—Your Hair Restorative has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC of its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all!

Yours truly. WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W H KENEDY.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Prof. O J Wood: Dear Sir—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure. FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor, as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it, and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

PROF. L. MILLER'S

HAIR INVIGORATOR!!

AN EFFECTIVE, SAFE AND ECONOMICAL COMPOUND,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR to its original color without dyeing, and preventing the hair from turning gray.

FOR PREVENTING BALDNESS, and curing it, when there is the least particle of vitality or recuperative energy remaining.

FOR REMOVING SCURF AND DANDRUFF, and all cutaneous affections at the Scalp.

FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it an unequalled gloss and brilliancy, making it soft and silky in its texture and causing it to curl readily.

The great celebrity and the increasing demand for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation at present in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, causes the hair to grow luxuriently, and gives it a rich, soft, glossy flexible appearance, and also where the hair is loosening and thining, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield a fresh covering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations had failed. L. M. has in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the latest period of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore it to its original hue, giving it a dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being per bottle, to be had at all respectable druggists and perfumers.

L. MILLER would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of the Invigorator, in cases where the childrens' Hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any impurities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future appearance of its Hair.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the fac simile LOUIS MILLER being on the outer wrapper; also, L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR, N. Y. blown in the glass.

LABOR-SAVING

WASHING MACHINE.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVING purchased the right for Blair county, of

are now manufacturing them at Altoona, and intend to supply them to those persons throughout the county who desire a LABOR-SAVING MACHINE.

This machine is got up on an entirely new principle, and is considered, by those who have seen it in use, the best that has ever been brought before the public.

Among the many advantages of this machine over all others may be mentioned the following:

1st. Its simplicity of construction, making it almost impossible to get out of order.

2d. Its speed, which astonishes alike the operator and the looker on.

3rd. The facility with which it adapts itself to the bulk or quantity of clothes desired to be washed.

4th. It washes equally well the finest and lightest fabric or the coarsest and heaviest, such as bed-quilts, comforts, blankets, &c.

McMINN & DERN,
Altoona, Blair County, Pa.

We the undersigned, hereby certify that we are now using Tolhurst's Improved Washing Machine and are fully satisfied that it is a very excellent article of the kind; combining as it does great speed with little labor, and performing its work in the most satisfactory manner. We therefore cheerfully recommend it to all who desire a real labor-saving washing machine.

MOFFAT'S

LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINE HAVES NOW been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the

are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, Loss of Appetite, Heartburn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Langour, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of GRAVEL.

Also WORMS, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

SCURVY, ULCERS, and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humors.

SCORBUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SALT RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. COMMON COLDS and INFLUENZA will always be cured by one dose, or by two in the worst cases.

PILES.—The original proprietor of these medicines, was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing, by the use of the Life Medicines alone.

FEVER & AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent—try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

BILLIOUS FEVERS and LIVER COMPLAINTS.—General debility, loss of appetite and diseases of females—the medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description:—Kings Evil and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these remarkable Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds, Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Colic, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of Mercury, will find these medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla.

Prepared and sold by W. B. MOFFAT,

For sale by all Druggists. [Sept. 13, 1860-1y.

than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove. HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, South America, and Germany.
